

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

IN

THE SEVENTY-SECOND YEAR

OF

MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

WEST LONG BRANCH, NEW JERSEY

WEDNESDAY, MAY SEVENTEENTH, TWO THOUSAND AND SIX

Monmouth University was founded in 1933 as the Central Jersey Shore's first center of higher education. Its beginning was attended by an outpouring of support from the state's educational community and great expectations of good.

Today, well launched into its second half century, Monmouth has fulfilled those expectations. From a two-year junior college conducting classes in borrowed quarters, Monmouth grew to achieve university status in 1995. The University's 155-acre campus in suburban West Long Branch connects Monmouth with New Jersey's historic past. Woodrow Wilson Hall, the University's administrative center, is a National Historic Landmark, and the Guggenheim building, a wing of the Monmouth University Library, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Monmouth University serves an enrollment of more than 6,000 undergraduate and graduate students—a richly diverse group that comes from a number of states other than New Jersey and from 28 foreign nations. The student body includes traditional-age students, young professionals pursuing advanced studies, and mature men and women resuming studies in preparation for a career change or for personal enrichment. Within Monmouth's seven schools—the School of Business Administration, the Wayne D. McMurray School of Humanities and Social Sciences, the School of Education, the School of Science, Technology and Engineering, the Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies, the Honors School, and the Graduate School—students have a choice of 48 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. At Monmouth, students participate in more than 70 extracurricular organizations and special interest activities, in addition to an NCAA Division I Athletics program, which fields 19 men's and women's teams.

HONORARY DEGREES

CHARLES GIBSON

Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

Presented by Marcia Sue Clever, Trustee

Best known as a co-anchor of Good Morning America, Charles Gibson is a veteran newsman whose commitment to reporting a story with passion and precision is apparent daily to millions of viewers. He can also be a gentle storyteller who is comfortable revealing both affection and humor when focusing on the lighter side of life.

Mr. Gibson returned to Good Morning America (GMA) to re-launch the broadcast with Diane Sawyer in 1999. He previously co-anchored the morning program from 1987 to 1998. In addition, Mr. Gibson was also co-anchor of Primetime Thursday, now known as Primetime, and continues to serve as a substitute anchor on World News Tonight, a responsibility that was magnified when the late Peter Jennings became ill last year.

Mr. Gibson traveled to Vatican City in April 2005 to lead ABC's coverage of the death of Pope John Paul II, which won a duPont-Columbia Award (the broadcast equivalent of a Pulitzer Prize). In October 2004, Mr. Gibson moderated the 90-minute town-hall-style debate between President George W. Bush and Senator John Kerry that was watched by 47 million people around the country.

The week before the 2004 presidential election, Mr. Gibson interviewed President George W. Bush at his ranch in Crawford, Texas, for Good Morning America. Among Mr. Gibson's interviews with the previous six Presidents, he sat down with former President Bill Clinton for a candid conversation about Mr. Clinton's memoir, My Life. With deep experience on the political beat, Mr. Gibson has anchored many broadcasts from Republican and Democratic national conventions as well as presidential inaugurations.

Mr. Gibson has interviewed leaders from around the globe, including Kofi Annan, Tony Blair, the late Yasser Arafat, and Nelson Mandela. Mr. Gibson traveled to Israel in April 2002 to cover the suicide bombings crisis and reported from Sharm El Sheikh, Egypt, in October 2000 to cover the Middle East peace summit.

Closer to home, in October 2005, he became the first morning television anchor to report live from inside the walls of CIA headquarters in Virginia, where he had a wide-ranging exclusive interview with CIA Director Porter Goss. In February 2003, he anchored GMA from the Johnson Space Center in Houston to report on the loss of the space shuttle Columbia. Additionally, Mr. Gibson won an Emmy Award for his July 2003 hour-long Primetime Thursday investigation titled Columbia: Final Mission.

On September 11, 2001, Mr. Gibson, along with Ms. Sawyer, began ABC's award-winning coverage of the attacks on the World Trade Center. For ABC News' first anniversary coverage of 9/11, Mr. Gibson interviewed Vice President Dick Cheney about the immediate federal response to the attacks on the World Trade Center and the decision to seek presidential authorization to shoot down aircraft over American soil. Mr. Gibson's hour-long Moments of Crisis report captured many powerful memories of the day from the national leadership at the White House, the Pentagon, and on Capitol Hill. Mr. Gibson also interviewed Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld during a live, historic broadcast from the Pentagon on September 9, 2002.

In June 2001, at the Oklahoma City National Memorial, Mr. Gibson anchored ABC's live coverage of the events leading up to the Timothy McVeigh execution. He reported from the scene when the Murrah Federal Building was bombed in April 1995 and continued to follow the story on multiple return visits to Oklahoma City.

Mr. Gibson first became familiar to television viewers as a correspondent on ABC's World News Tonight With Peter Jennings, as an occasional substitute for Ted Koppel as anchor on Nightline, and as substitute anchor on World News This Morning.

Mr. Gibson was chief correspondent covering the House of Representatives for ABC News from 1981 to 1987. He came to ABC News in 1975 from a syndicated news service, Television News Inc., that he joined in 1974. He covered President Nixon's resignation and the subsequent Watergate conspiracy trials for TVN. His first job in broadcasting was as Washington producer for RKO Network in 1966.

He was recently awarded the prestigious Paul White Award from the Radio-Television News Directors Association. The award recognizes an individual's lifetime contribution to electronic journalism.

Mr. Gibson is a graduate of Princeton University, where he served as news director for the university's radio station, WPRB-FM.

A native of Evanston, Illinois, Mr. Gibson grew up in Washington, D.C. He and his wife, Arlene, live in New York. They have two daughters.

SARA J. BLOOMFIELD
Doctor of Public Service, honoris causa

Presented by Richard S. Sambol, Trustee

Sara J. Bloomfield is the director of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, which has welcomed more than 23 million visitors, including more than 80 heads of state. She is an inspired champion of the museum's mission to serve as a memorial to the past and as a reminder of the moral obligations of societies and individuals.

Ms. Bloomfield joined the museum in 1986 when it was a project in development, grappling with the complex issues of building a "living memorial" to the Holocaust on the National Mall. She served in a number of positions before becoming director in 1999. Under her direction, the Museum created a series of innovative leadership training programs to bring the lessons of the Holocaust to diverse audiences: a unique student-driven program with Washington-area high schools that has been replicated in northern Israel for Jewish, Arab, and Druze students; and programs for local and national law enforcement officials—including police officers, FBI agents, and judges—as well as U.S. diplomats and students at military academies.

Ms. Bloomfield created the museum's program on contemporary genocide and launched its Academy for Genocide Prevention. She also established its National Institute for Holocaust Education and Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies.

For the museum's tenth anniversary in 2003, she secured the first-ever loan of Anne Frank's original writings, including parts of her renowned diary. Some of these historic manuscripts had never been on view; none had been displayed outside the Netherlands. The recipient of many awards and honors, Ms. Bloomfield has advised memorials and museums around the world, such as the Jewish Museum in Berlin, the Argentine government's effort to memorialize the victims of "the Dirty War," the Holocaust museum in Buenos Aires, the memorial advisory committee at Ground Zero in New York, the National Constitution Center in Philadelphia, and the Iraq Memory Foundation.

Originally from Cleveland, Ms. Bloomfield holds a bachelor of arts degree in English literature from Northwestern University and a master's degree in education from John Carroll University. Early in her career, Ms. Bloomfield taught in Sydney, Australia, and is an avid traveler to all parts of the world.

FRANKIE VALLI

Doctor of Music, honoris causa

Presented by Herbert W. McCord, Trustee

With a vocal style as distinctive as it is evocative, Frankie Valli—a member of the legendary Four Seasons, as well as an electrifying solo performer—has sold 100 million records over the course of his long career.

Early Four Seasons songs, including Walk Like a Man, Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry, and Stay, feature Valli as the urgent voice of young, 1960s working-class New Jersey. His later solo recordings include Can't Take My Eyes Off of You, a mature love song full of yearning that also grew into a powerful anthem when it was forever allied with the 1978 film, The Deer Hunter.

Born Francis Castelluccio in Newark, New Jersey, Franki Valli was inspired by fellow New Jersey native Frank Sinatra along with such jazz influences as the Hi-Lo's and the Four Freshman. It was after seeing Sinatra live at the Paramount Theater in New York City that Frankie Valli, then only seven, knew he wanted to be a singer.

As a teenager in the 1950s, Valli sang with several Jersey groups at school events and in local clubs. He formed the Varietones around 1954. Changing their name to the Four Lovers in 1956, they signed with RCA Victor Records that same year and had a minor hit with You Are the Apple of My Eye. After that the group played in lounges for several years.

By 1960, songwriter and keyboard player Bob Gaudio joined up with Valli along with Philadelphia music producer Bob Crewe. In 1961 the group changed their name to the Four Seasons after a bowling alley in Union, New Jersey, where they were turned down for a job.

In 1962, Frankie Valli's talent was rewarded with the remarkable success that would stamp his career. That year, the Four Seasons recorded the smash hit Sherry, that earned them a recording contract with a major label and launched them into superstardom. With Valli's falsetto as its trademark, the Four Seasons remain one of the world's most instantly recognizable sounds.

Valli would find solo success in the 1970s with My Eyes Adored You, a number one hit that was certified double platinum. Two more singles, Swearin' to God and Our Day Will Come, solidified his place in the limelight.

In 1990, the Four Seasons were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, joining other legends as one of popular music's most influential acts.

Today, Frankie Valli continues to entertain audiences throughout the world, both with his recordings and live performances. He has also recently appeared in the award-winning television drama, The Sopranos, and Broadway's hit Jersey Boys is based on the story of the Four Seasons.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHER AWARD, 2006 RECIPIENT

DR. BRUCE R. NORMANDIA

Dr. Bruce R. Normandia is an assistant professor in Monmouth University's Department of Curriculum and Instruction in the School of Education and has taught here since 2000. He received his doctoral degree in mathematics education from Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, in 1981.

Dr. Normandia's teaching at Monmouth University is the culmination of a 36-year career in education. Having taught high school mathematics for ten years, he supervised mathematics education K–12 in several school districts throughout New Jersey. He was an elementary school principal, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, and completed a seven-year term as superintendent of schools before joining the faculty at Monmouth University, where he has taught a variety of graduate and undergraduate courses: Curriculum and Instruction, Introduction to Public School Education, Science and Mathematics for the Elementary School Teacher, and Issues and Problems in Education.

"Dr. Normandia's passion for his subject matter, his skill at engaging students to think critically about mathematics and the teaching of mathematics, and his use of humor make for a wonderful learning atmosphere for his students," said Dr. Thomas Pearson, provost/vice president for Academic Affairs. "New Jersey is fortunate to have a mathematics educator of Dr. Normandia's caliber preparing its future teachers."

Since arriving at Monmouth University, Dr. Normandia's research has focused on communication in the mathematics classroom, and issues of equity and access in mathematics education. Dr. Normandia has coauthored a children's early-childhood mathematics book, The Dooples and the Shapes.

An active member of the Monmouth University community, Dr. Normandia also presents his research both nationally and internationally. He is a speaker for the International Systemic Functional Congress and the International Institute of Learning. Nationally, he has presented to the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, The National Reading Conference, the American Educational Research Association, and the Association of Teacher Educators. Locally, Dr. Normandia is a favorite keynote speaker for the Association of Mathematics Teachers of New Jersey, and he has provided staff development for teachers in more than 120 school districts in New Jersey.

Message to the Graduates by Dr. Bruce R. Normandia

We, the faculty of Monmouth University, join your parents, relatives, and friends in being proud of you today.

Nothing can compare to a lifelong career for which you feel a great deal of passion. Hopefully, the seeds of that passion have been sown here at Monmouth University as you make ready for new careers and a new life. It is that passion for teaching that has sustained me in the field of education these 36 years. When you are impassioned about what you do in life, you are passionate about living.

I am deeply moved and sincerely honored to receive the Distinguished Teacher Award because teaching is my chosen career. Many observers tell me that I am as fervent today about the teaching of mathematics as I was when I was a high school teacher. I could be paid no greater compliment, nor be given any greater award.

Be patient with yourself and allow yourself to learn. Be committed to what you have chosen to do, remaining loyal to those who are dedicated to you, but most of all be passionate!

Congratulations Class of 2006, and a very passionate BRAVO on your tremendous accomplishment.

WILLIAM ROBERTS OUTSTANDING SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHER AWARD

MS. ELISA DICOIO

Ms. Elisa DiCoio has been a teacher at Shawnee High School since 1977. She was nominated by her former student, Jennifer O'Donnell, who stated, "She is the type of teacher who makes class fun. We were always laughing in her class, which made it easier to learn." Ms. DiCoio is a business educator who cares about her students on an individual basis and teaches in a relaxed atmosphere where students not only learn about the material at hand, but also life lessons. She has worked tirelessly on the technology portfolios that students develop and assisted with the creation of the "Freshman Connection," an award winning best practices program to assist freshmen in transitioning into high school. In addition, she mentors new teachers and volunteers for school community projects. She received her MEd and BS from The College of New Jersey. She resides in Medford.

MS. LAURIE HANCE

Ms. Laurie Hance has been a biology teacher at Voorhees High School since 1998. She was nominated by her former student, Ryan Scally, who said, "She is an outstanding teacher, mentor, and friend. It was because of her biology class that I decided to pursue a Bachelor of Science in Biology." Ms. Hance is a dedicated professional who makes subject matter interesting by presenting material clearly and creating lessons that are student-centered and often include hands-on activity. She is advisor to the National Honor Society, Senior Class, Biology I, and the Dance Team. She received her MS from East Stroudsburg University and BS from Trenton State College (The College of New Jersey). She resides in Milford.

MR. JOE KARCZEWSKI

Mr. Joe Karczewski has been an English teacher at West Morris Mendham High School since 1983. He was nominated by his former student, Daniel Walker, who stated, "His tough teaching methods and class expectations helped prepare me for college. He is an outstanding teacher due to his ability to make English courses at the high school level enjoyable and exciting while also being demanding." Using a combination of tough but fair love and humor, Mr. Karczewski encourages each student to work to his or her potential. He is an exceptional English and creative writing teacher. He excels in breaking down the writing process for his students and is successful in improving their writing and speaking skills. He received his BA in English from Arkansas Tech University. He resides in Mendham.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION AND REGALIA

For the benefit of our visitors the following information, digested from “An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide” prepared by the American Council on Education, may prove helpful in identifying the costumes you will see in the Commencement procession.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiate, and Bachelors” of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges prescribed the wearing of a long gown. In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in Europe, the wearing of a robe often signified a degree candidate’s political or religious affiliation; in the northern universities and those of the British Isles the robes signified that tuition and boarding fees of the wearer had been paid and also entitled him to special immunities in civil law—as well as providing him warmth at lectures and chapel.

When American colleges and universities desired to adopt some suitable system of academic apparel, a conference held at Columbia University in 1895, made up of representatives from various institutions, drew up a “By-Law, Regulation, or Statute” for the establishment of a suitable code of academic dress for colleges and universities in the United States. This code, with modifications made in 1959 by the Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies of the American Council on Education, is still in force; the costumes and colors, trimmings, and patterns you will see are traditional, and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor’s gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves; the master’s gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist that hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut, and the front part has the arc cut away. The doctor’s gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It may be worn open or closed.

Black is the recommended color for all academic gowns. Bachelor’s and master’s gowns are untrimmed. Doctor’s gowns are faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves, or the color of the velvet may be that which is distinctive to the degree, agreeing with that of the edging of the hood. In the 1960s many American land-grant universities adopted the British and the Scottish tradition of using the official school color(s) for the robes of their doctoral recipients—for instance, Yale: sky blue; Harvard: crimson; University of Pennsylvania: scarlet and blue; Columbia: slate gray; Rutgers: deep red and black.

The colors you will see in the hoods of our faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken:

Apricot: Nursing

Brown: Fine Arts

Citron: Social Work

Crimson: Journalism

Dark Blue: Philosophy

Golden Yellow: Science

Green: Medicine

Lemon-Yellow: Library Science

Light Blue: Education

Orange: Engineering

Pink: Music

Purple: Law

Sage Green: Physical Education

Salmon Pink: Public Health

Scarlet: Theology

Yellow-Brown: Commerce, Business, Accountancy

White: Arts, Letters, Humanities

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees—bachelor’s, master’s, and doctor’s—are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet or the color appropriate for the degree. You will see in our procession many hoods edged with dark blue, representing doctor of philosophy.

Mortarboards are the approved headgear. The tassel, worn on the left side of the cap, may be of gold if the holder has a doctor’s degree.

In the procession, first come the faculty members, then the candidates for degrees arranged in the order in which degrees are to be conferred, and finally, the speakers, trustees, administrative officers, candidates for honorary degrees, and other members of the platform party.
